

The given conditions imply that there cannot be two honest senators. Therefore, since we know that there is at least one honest senator, there must be 49 corrupt senators.